The majority of these cases are caused by uncontrolled diabetes or high blood pressure. Minority populations and those with a family history of CKD are also at high risk. The NKFM's top priority is prevention so the Foundation offers many programs aimed at educating high risk populations on their risks for CKD and how behavior and lifestyle changes can prevent them from developing CKD. The NKFM serve children and adults for free across the state through innovative, grassroots programs. In addition to prevention and education programs, the NKFM also works to increase organ donation, provide patient services, and partner with state

Community Services: The NKFM offers health fair and health education programs throughout the state to help identify and treat early kidney disease in those people at the highest risk for developing CKD so they can prevent or delay its onset. The NKFM also offers a number of volunteer opportunities for people looking to get involved with the Foundation through either the state office in Ann Arbor or the branch offices in Detroit, Flint, and Grand Rapids. The NKFM has developed a significant advocacy program to speak on behalf of the needs of people with kidney disease and in need of organ transplants.
